

Invention to help the world

If I had to think of an invention I would make a machine that when you really want or need something than you will get it. You just need to push a button and tell the machine. So if you are hungry than it can give you food. I will get assistants to make one for everyone.They are Freeee.

